Adobe

You're a giver and a manifestor and you thrive in spaces that are down-to-earth yet abundant. Your dream space is a converted barn or an adobe - it is the perfect combination of rustic and comfort. You want to feel close to earth and you love neutral warm tones. You can hold a big supportive and nurturing space for others, therefore it is extremely important that you can truly rejuvenate and re-charge in your home.

YOUR ELEMENT: Earth

Nature lover, earthy, stable, generous, nurturer, compassionate, warm, determined, timeless

STONE SCULPTURES

Earth element people, like you, are more solid and confident than others. There's a certain honor about them.

Stone sculptures are like that. Ageless and powerful. Calming to look at and be around.

Add sculptures to your home to remind you of your own inner nature that is about tradition and ancestors.

Other examples of Earth element: porcelain, terra cotta, low furniture, and landscape art.

SOFT, RICH FABRICS

Low furniture, soft, comfortable seating areas, rich fabrics and ambient lighting.

Decorate your home with items that invite you to slow down and to nurture.

Make your family room a gathering place where everyone feels loved and pampered.

SMOKY QUARTZ is believed to be beneficial in reducing worry and anxiety and for gently restoring balance after illness. Use this crystal when you need to strengthen your connection to the earth.

TIMELESS BEAUTY

It is through tradition that Earth element people find their spiritual path.

Think of the traditions that you grew up with. Bring those to the present time. Celebrate the memories, bring them alive in your home. You are a natural leader, a threshold, between this world and the next.

Mahatma Gandhi:

"To forget how to dig the earth and to tend the soil is to forget ourselves."

ABOUT

MoonGate Feng Shui

DESIGNING THE SPACES THAT SHAPE US.

Moongate Feng Shui applies time-proven practices to sculpt your physical environment to bring about joy, abundance and harmony.

Optimizing your life is not just an inside job, it requires a deep dive into the relationship between all the interconnected things that make up your home. The ancient principles of Feng Shui guide us in aligning your surroundings with your true essence, thus catapulting you to a place of happiness and health.

Classical Feng Shui is more than a superficial practice of putting a crystal ball here and a happy cat there – it's about identifying the underlying energetics of your space using diverse methods that combine ancient Taoist cosmology, architecture, urban planning and mathematical sciences.
